

Grasp failure decomposes into a geometric gate and an execution channel ($n = 7,560$ trials, floating gripper, top-1 pose)

(a) Depth noise moves the two channels in opposite directions, so its marginal effect peaks rather than decaying

(b) Elevation moves neither channel: its apparent effect is not a perception effect

